THE INCOME TAX BLANKS.

WHERE TO OBTAIN THEM IN NEW-YORK, NEW-JERSEY AND CONNECTICUT.

EVERY ONE WHOSE INCOME IN 1894 EQUALLED $3,500 MUST GET A BLANK AND FILL

IT OUT IN ALL ITS MANY DETAILS.

Many correspondents of The Tribune living in the States of New-York, New-Jersey and Connecticut have written to The Tribune in regard to the in-come tax blanks. The Income Tax law does not instruct the internal revenue collectors to send the income tax blanks (which must be filled out and sworn to by every person whose income equals $3,500 a year) to any individual or any corporation. Under the law both individuals and corporations the are required to obtain the income tax blanks from the offices of the internal revenue collectors, and to swear to all of the many details (of which there fourth-st., near Third-ave., 19 a. m. is a great number), which are contained in these

The Tribune on Monday, January 28, published complete copies of the income tax blanks which corporations are required to swear to, and also of the income tax blanks which individuals whose incomes in 1894 equalled $2,500 each are required to swear to. These income tax blanks must be obtained from the internal revenue collectors, must be filled out and sworn to in every detail, and must be filed at the office of the Internal Revenue collectors on or before the first Monday in March. These are the absolute requirements of the law,

IMPORTANCE OF SECURING BLANKS. Hence, of course, it becomes a matter of the utmost importance to every corporation in every State of the Union, and to every individual whose income in the year 1894 equalled $3,500, to obtain copies of the proper blanks from the offices of the internal revenue collectors. But many readers of The Trib-une in New-York, New-Jersey and Connecticut say that they do not know where the offices of the in ternal revenue collectors, from whom they must obtain blanks, are situated. In order to give comolete information to its readers in New-York State, New-Jersey and Connecticut, The Tribune publishes herewith the details as to the internal revenue dis-tricts in the three States, and the names and addresses of the collectors. All these facts have been obtained from the Internal Revenue Office in Washington within a few days, and they can be accepted as entirely correct. the State of New-York there are now six internal revenue districts. There were thirty-two districts in 1862, but various districts have been consolidated from time to time until there are now just half a dozen. The First Internal Revenue Dis-trict of the State of New-York is made up of the counties of Kings, Queens, Richmond and Suffolk. The collector of the First District is A. Augustus Healy. His office is in the Brooklyn Federal illding at Washington and Johnson sts.

THE TWO DISTRICTS IN THIS CITY. The Second Internal Revenue District of the State of New-York is made up of the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Eighth, Ninth and Fif-teenth wards of New-York City; also that part of the Fourteenth Ward lying west of the centre of Mott-st.; also that part of the Sixteenth Ward lying south of the centre of West Twenty-fourth-st.; and also Governor's Island. The Internal Revenue Collector of the Second District is John A. Sullivan, and his office is at No. 114 Nassau-st., New-York

The Third Internal Revenue District of the State of New-York is made up of the Seventh, Tenth, Eleventh, Tweifth, Thirteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-first and Twenty-second wards of New-York City; also that part of the Fourteenth Ward lying east of the centre of Mott-st.; also that part of the Sixteenth Ward lying north of the centre of West Twenty-fourth-st.; also Blackwell's, Randall's and Ward's islands. The Internal Revenue Collector of the Third District is Edward Grosse, and his office is in the German Savings Bank Building, at the southeast corner of Fourteenth-st. and Fourth-ave.

IN THE STATE AT LARGE.

The next internal revenue district in the State of New-York is called the Fourteenth District. It is New-York is called the Fourteenth District. It is made up of the consolidation of a number of the districts which existed in 1862. The Fourteenth District in the State of New-York is made up of the counties of Albany, Clinton, Columbia, Dutchess, Essex, Fulton, Greene, Hamilton, Montgomery, Orange., Putnam. Rensselaer, Rockland, Saratoga, Schenectady, Schoharle, Sullivan, Ulster, Warren, Washington and Westchester, and the Twenty-third Washington and Westers of New-York City. The and Twenty-fourth wards of New-York City. The Internal Revenue Collector of the Fourteenth District is Louis W. Pratt, and his office is in Albany.

The next district in order in the State of New-York is called the Twenty-first, and fike the Fourteenth was made up by consolidating a number the districts as they existed in 1862. The Twentyfirst District of the State of New-York is made up of the counties of Broome, Cayuga, Chenango, Cortland, Delaware, Franklin, Herkimer, Jefferson, Lew-is, Madison, Oneida, Onondaga, Oswego, Otsego, St. Lawrence, Schuyler, Seneca, Tioga, Tompkins and Wayne. The Internal Revenue Collector of the Twenty-first District of the State of New-York is William A. Beach, and his office is in Syracuse.

The last internal revenue district of the State of New-York is called the Twenty-eighth, and this was New-York is called the Twenty-eighth, and this was made up by the consolidation of a number of districts as they existed in 1862. The Twenty-eighth District is made up of the counties of Allegany, Cattaraugus, Chautauqua, Chemung, Erie, Genesee, Livingston, Mouroe, Niagara, Ontario, Orleans, Steuben, Wyoming and Yates. The Internal Revenue Collector of the Twenty-eighth District is Valentine Fleckenstein, and his office is in the city of Rochester.

NEW-JERSEY AND CONNECTICUT. The State of New-Jersey was divided into five collection districts in 1862. These have been consolidated into two. There are only two internal reve nue districts in the State of New-Jersey now, one of which is called the First District, and the other of which is called the First District, and the other of which is called the Fifth District. The First Internal Revenue District of the State of New-Jersey is made up of the counties of Atlan-tic, Burlington, Camden, Cape May, Cumberland, Gloucester, Mercer, Monmouth, Ocean and Salem. The Internal Revenue Collector of the First District Gloucester, Mercer, Monmouth, Ocean and Salem. The Internal Revenue Collector of the First District of New-Jersey is James Butcher, and his office is in Camden.

The Fifth Internal Revenue District of the State of New-Jersey is made up of the counties of Bergen, Essex, Hudson, Hunterdon, Middlesex, Morris, Passalc, Somerset, Sussex, Union and Warren. The Internal Revenue Collector of this district is James F. Connelly, and his office is in Newark.

The State of Connecticut was divided into four collection districts in 1862, but all of these districts were consolidated from time to time until, on September 1, 1833, they all became one district, known as the District of Connecticut. But the two States of Rhode Island and Connecticut were consolidated into one district, to be known as the District of Connecticut, on July 1, 1837. Hence every corporation in the two States of Connecticut and Rhode Island (and these two States contain an enormous number of manufacturing and other corporations) must obtain its income tax blank of one collector at Hartford, and every individual in Rhode Island and in Connecticut whose income in 1894 equalled or exceeded $5,500 (and there are many millionaires in the two States, especially in Rhode Island must get his income tax blank from the Internal Revenue Collector of the District of Connecticut, whose office is in Hartford. The name of the Internal Revenue Collector from whom blanks must be obtained for the States of Connecticut and Rhode Island is John C. Byxbee, and his office, as aiready said, is in Hartford.

It is an interesting fact that every internal revenue collector in the States of New-York, New-Jersey, James Butcher, of Camden, whose salary is only $2,55.

THE FRENCH BALL TO-NIGHT. No person who intends to enjoy the festivities of the Cercle Français de l'Harmonie mask ball to-night need suffer any overcharges by hackmen or others, as all the usual police regulations relating to the movements of carriages and city ordinances governing the rates of fares will be in force, with which all persons should acquaint themselves. Carriages must approach the Madison-ave, entrance to the Garden from the south and pass out by the way if Madison-ave, north, or Twenty-seventh-st. The foors of Madison Square Garden will not be open before 9 o'clock, notwithstanding a crush of people are expected, the sales of tickets and boxes having been unusually large.

THE BIG BILLIARD ROOMS WERE CLOSED, No attempt was made by Daly and Slosson to open their billiard rooms yesterday. They were "pulled" on Sunday, February 3, and a lot of players and people in the rooms were arrested, charged with vio-ating the Sunday law. Captain Pickett, of the Tenaction Precinct, told Daly and Slorson on Friday, last that if they opened their places yesterday an-other raid would be made on them. Deciding that discretion knocked valor into a cocked hat, the proprietors of the big billiard rooms kept their doors watch, however, but they had little to do. Daly and atch, however, but they had little to the conson have evidently decided to wait until the sestion is settled definitely in the courts. There ere many disgusted billiard players in town yes-rday who wanted to know why people were always to be seleghing when they were not allowed amuse themselves in the way they like best.

AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

AFTER POLICE JUSTICES. MAYOR SCHIEREN TO APPLY FOR THE REMOVAL OF QUIGLEY AND WATSON.

On account of alleged violation of the Penal Code neglect of duty and inefficiency during the strike, Mayor Schieren will, it is announced, make application to-day or to-morrow to the General Term of the Supreme Court for the removal of Police Justices James F. Quigley and William Watson. The charges will be largely based upon the court records themselves. During the strike Justice Quigley has sentenced only one person, a boy, and he was sent to the Elmira Reformatory, for rioting in connection with the strike, while the court has been flooded with strike cases day by day. He has either adjourned the hearing, discharged the cuiprit or left the case "pending." In all ninety-seven cases have come before him. The disposition of strike cases by Justice Watson is almost equally remarkable in its

The justices last night said they had not received copies of the complaint, but expected to have them this morning.

The Mayor's petition will recite the charges and specifications and be accompanied by proofs. The judges who will sli at the General Term are Pratt, Brown and Dykman.

When Justice Quigley was seen yesterday in reference to the matter ne said that all the adjournments that had taken place in his court had been without opposition on the part of the representatives of the people. He said that almost every adjournment had been made while a representative of the railroad companies was present. Justice Watson said he would stand by his record.

Justice Quigley was appointed to his office less than a year ago by Mayor Scheren, Controller Corwin and Auditor Weber. He represented the Greenpoint district in the Assembly of 1891, and was leader on the floor in 1892. He is a "machine" Democrat and the reform Democrats of Brooklyn have charged him heretofore with shaping his court decisions with an eye to his political future.

A FINE CHURCH TO BE BUILT.

SUMMIT, N. J., EPISCOPALIANS TO LAY A COR-NERSTONE AS SOON AS THE WEATHER PERMITS. Two years ago this month Calvary Episcopal Church, at Summit, N. This, however, has only been a temporary measure, and as soon as the weather permits the cornerstone of

The church when completed will consist of nave, with choir, sanctuary, northeast chapel, baptistry and tower, and will extend from east to west, the sanctuary being at the east end. The budding still be 100 feet in length and the nave will be 65 feet wide; the chapel will be 20020 feet, and the tower 20017½ feet, the choir and sanctuary being 10 feet deep. The roof over the nave will be supported on eight pillars and four responds, thus forming a clerestory, and this roof will also extend over the choir. a church to cost in the neighborhood of $75,000, will be laid. clerestory, and this roof will also extend over the choir.

On the main floor of the church, south of the sacristy, will be an altar and guild-room, and over this will be a gallery. Corresponding with these rooms on the north side will be a passageway leading to a chapel, and over this the organ will be placed. One of the most striking features of the interior will be the employment of two arches, one at the entrance to the choir, another and smaller arch marking the entrance to the sanctuary. The sanctuary will be apsidal in shape, instead of square. Beyond the arch over the sanctuary will be seen the three windows of the apse, the whole tending to produce a beautiful perspective.

The building is early English in design, and will be constructed of gray granite corresponding, as nearly as possible, to the old church. The trim of the exterior will be of this sandstone. The interior, both roof and foor, will be finished in Georgia pine, trimmed with red oak. The eight pillars will be of polished granite, and the choir and sanctuary will be finished in mosaic or tile. The church will seat over 700. The architect is Heavy M. Congdon, of New-Yark.

The new church has also a new rector, the Rev. Walker Gwynne, who had been rector of St. John's Church, at Cohoes, New-York, for eight years, when he accepted a call as rector of St. Mark's Church, Augusta, Me., where he remained until compelled by ill-health to resign his charge. Ills health being fully recovered, he accepted the call from Summit Episcopal Church. The vestrymen of the church are John N. Cody, Joseph S. Falmer, John H. Wisner, William E. Badeau, A. W. Newell, C. T. Jenks, T. B. Adams and Frederic Adams.
